KAZAKHSTAN: 108 administrative prosecutions in January-June 2019 - list

By Felix Corley, Forum 18 (<https://www.forum18.org>)

Administrative prosecutions to punish exercising freedom of religion or belief appear to be rising. At least 108 cases were brought between January and June to punish unapproved worship, sharing faith, selling religious literature and items in shops or online, or using "Amen" in mosque worship. In three cases, courts ordered seized religious literature to be destroyed.

Kazakhstan's authorities are known to have brought at least 108 administrative prosecutions in the first six months of 2019 to punish 106 individuals, one religious community and one company for their exercise of freedom of religion or belief. Of these, 94 ended with convictions, with 88 individuals and one company being fined.

The 108 administrative cases in the first six months of 2019 represent an increase in the rate of prosecutions. In the whole of 2018, 171 such prosecutions are known to have been brought. (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2448)

Punishments included not only fines but temporary bans on activity, a permanent ban on a meeting place for worship, and seizures and destruction of religious literature, according to a review of the known January to June 2019 cases compiled by Forum 18 (see full list below).

Muslims, Protestants (especially Council of Churches Baptists), Jehovah's Witnesses, and commercial and private sellers were many of the targets of these prosecutions.

Fines were the equivalent of between three weeks' and four months' average wages for those in formal work (35 to 200 Monthly Financial Indicators, MFIs, 88,375 Tenge to 505,000 Tenge in 2019).

Many of the prosecutions were to punish meetings for worship without state permission. Bolat Isabayev was fined for leading a home worship meeting in Kandygash on the most sacred day annually for Jehovah's Witnesses. A court fined two ethnic Azeri imams in Zhambyl Region for maintaining funeral prayer rooms without state approval. Police fined or tried to fine up to 20 members of Karaganda's Revival Protestant Church after raiding a birthday party. (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2492)

In three cases, courts ordered seized religious literature to be destroyed: 29 Muslim books seized from a commercial seller in Kyzylorda (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2488); 18 Islamic books seized from another commercial seller also in Kyzylorda; and 2 Islamic books a visitor from Kyrgyzstan had in her luggage. (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2442)

In the first known such cases, police in January handed two Jehovah's Witnesses summary fines for sharing their faith under the Administrative Code Article which punishes "Harassment in public places" with small fines. Both fines were overturned on appeal (see below).

Administrative prosecutions are known to have been brought in January to June 2019 (with comparisons to the full 2018 (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2448) and 2017 (http://www.forum18.org/archive.php?article\_id=2348) calendar years) to punish:

- 28 (26 individuals, 1 community and 1 company) for meeting for worship, hosting such meetings or maintaining places for such meetings (40 in 2018, 88 in 2017).
- 7 individuals for offering religious literature to others for free (10 in 2018, 39 in 2017).
- 23 individuals for offering religious literature, icons or other items for sale (34 in 2018, 58 in 2017).

- 20 individuals for offering religious items for sale online (18 in 2018, 10 in 2017).
- 17 individuals for posting religious materials online (23 in 2018, 12 in 2017).
- 2 individuals for trying to import religious literature (0 in 2018, 4 in 2017).
- 5 individuals for sharing faith with others (17 in 2018, 31 in 2017).
- 4 Muslims for praying in mosques in ways that the state-controlled Muslim Board has banned, for example by using the word "Amen" (21 in 2018, 22 in 2017, the first year such punishments were imposed).
- 2 individuals for teaching their faith (3 in 2018, 2 in 2017).

No religious leaders are known to have been prosecuted for allowing children to be present or conducting religious rites against the wishes of one parent (1 in 2018, 9 in 2017).

No religious communities are known to have been prosecuted for "inadequate" security or security measures for their places of worship, for example not having enough video cameras (2 in 2018, 5 in 2017).

No individuals are known to have been prosecuted for failing to pay earlier fines to punish them for exercising the right to freedom of religion or belief (2 in 2018, 2 in 2017).

No foreign citizens are known to have been ordered deported (1 in 2018, 2 in 2017).

A total of 90 of the 106 January to June 2019 cases were heard in court, but 18 fines are known to have been summarily handed down by police (the total number could be higher). All the known police fines were in Karaganda, Kyzylorda, Shymkent or Taraz.

Of the 106 administrative cases known to have been brought against individuals in 2019, 69 were against men and 37 against women. Women represented more than half of individuals prosecuted to punish offering religious literature and other items for sale in shops and online.

Of the 106 known administrative prosecutions against individuals in 2019, at least 3 began as cases under Criminal Code Article 174 ("Incitement of social, national, clan, racial, or religious discord, insult to the national honour and dignity or religious feelings of citizens, as well as propaganda of exclusivity, superiority or inferiority of citizens on grounds of their religion, class, national, generic or racial identity, committed publicly or with the use of mass media or information and communication networks, as well as by production or distribution of literature or other information media, promoting social, national, clan, racial, or religious discord").

The administrative cases in these 3 cases were launched when prosecutors decided not to pursue the Criminal Code Article 174 cases.
